

BUSINESS

The Plaza Companies promotes three in senior management

Plaza Companies, a specialist in medical office, biotechnology facilities and luxury senior living announces the promotion of three executives.

Larry Pinalto, has been named Chief Operating/Chief Financial Officer for the Company and oversees the day-to-day operations for the firm. Prior to joining Plaza Companies four years ago, Pinalto was vice president and corporate controller for Birtcher Properties and served at both Deloitte and Touche and Ernst and Young's Kenneth Leventhal Real Estate Group.

Megan Sherwood has been named chief leasing officer for the firm. Sherwood oversees a portfolio of 1.2 million square feet and is not only highly regarded by her peers in the industry but has been in a leadership position with Plaza Companies for the past 11 years.

Larry Pinalto

With 20 years in real estate leasing, Sherwood serves as past executive board member of the Industry Real Estate Management (IREM) and is on the enforcement advisory committee for Arizona

Dyanna Bentley

State Board of Technical Registration.

Dyanna Bentley has been named vice president of property and facilities management. Bentley's leadership has helped to strengthen the brand and recognition of the property management division for the Plaza Companies and she will continue to lead the property and facilities management team in an effort to enhance the physician/tenant experience and to improve the quality and operations of the entire 1.5 million square foot management portfolio.

Megan Sherwood

Prior to joining Plaza Companies, Bentley served as regional manager for Muller Company, which included a significant portfolio of office and industrial projects throughout Arizona.