Peggy R. Maxwell Named Plaza Companies' New Senior Property Management Strategist

Seasoned Industry Professional to Advance Existing Property Management Portfolio

PEORIA, Arizona (August 10, 2018) — With more than a quarter-century of industry experience under her belt, Plaza Companies' new senior property management strategist has her sights set on building an even bigger portfolio for the lauded full-service real estate and property management firm.

Peggy R. Maxwell arrives at Plaza Companies following an 11-year stint as founder, president and designated broker of a thriving commercial property management and brokerage company, where she oversaw about 1 million square feet of industrial, office, retail, multifamily and mixed-use space before selling the business and securing her new position.

In addition to helping Plaza Companies raise its profile within the commercial property management sector and sharpening the company's focus on budgeting, financial forecasting and implementing impactful business development plans, Maxwell will assist the firm with asset acquisition and disposition, tenant relations, and lease administration and negotiations, among related efforts.

"Peggy's considerable skillset with regard to accounting, client relations and communications make her an invaluable member of the Plaza team," said Sharon Harper, President & CEO of Plaza Companies. "She's a key player in our efforts to advance Plaza's property management portfolio, and we're honored to announce that she's part of our growing workforce."

Maxwell, an Arizona State University graduate and an active member of the Building Owners and Managers Association, AZCREW Phoenix, CASA of Arizona and the YWCA, among other affiliations, is eager to make a swift impact through her new role.

"Plaza Companies has long set the standard in Arizona in terms of property management, leasing and development opportunities," Maxwell said. "I'm thrilled to be a part of a team I've long admired, and I am excited to be serving Plaza's clients and industry partners."
